When was the last time?

When was the last time you ate a great meal? Or saw a great play in a ball game? Or decided to come to a meeting or degree at YOUR Lodge?

Masonry is truly a unique organization in that there have always been more card carrying members than those attending meetings and for the most part the organization moves forward year after year. The question proposed here today is actually more of an introspective philosophical debate for each of us.

What did I want from Freemasonry when I knocked at its door?

There are some of you who will say, "I did my time as an officer" and without a doubt your service is part of J. B. Covert's long legacy of excellence and is certainly appreciated. You are still welcome to come by and enjoy some fellowship with your brothers.

For some the answer may be, "I didn't know for sure, but all of the men in my family were Masons and I kind of felt like I had to join." To you Brother we say reach out to your family members and other Masons and learn more about what Masonry has meant to them. You should also come by and try it out for a while and see what it could mean to you. We all have different experiences and the more you learn about Masonry the more you will enjoy it.

There are others like those pictured in the group of current officers above who enjoy the camaraderie and sense of purpose that they currently feel serving in a myriad of roles.

Our current Junior Warden, Senior Warden, and Worshipful Master are all under the age of 30, but our Deacons and Stewards are over 40 (maybe even 50, but we're not saying). Our Preparation Steward is one of our youngest members and he turned 20 this year!

Why is this important to you? Because Masonry is a life-long journey and we all have the opportunity to become involved on different levels at different stages of our lives. If you're at a stage where you can come by and check things out, then we'd enjoy seeing you at a meeting or an event!

If you haven't been to J. B. Covert for a degree in a while check in with us via E-mail at web@jbcouvertlodge.com and we'll make sure you get notified of the next degree dates. We have at least two Fellow Craft degrees coming up this summer that you can come and watch.

Now some of you might be saying to yourself it has been so long since I was there I wouldn't remember any of the people or signs and tokens. Don't worry! Bring your dues card and drivers license and we'll get you squared away prior to the meeting. All of the officers and members are willing to help a Brother in need you know.

Other things to know about coming back to lodge:

- Dress code for stated meetings does not require you to wear a suit and tie.
- Officers will typically wear a suit or sport coat and tie or business casual attire
- Typically a meal and fellowship time will precede every meeting/degree and these times are a big part of developing the fraternal relationships with your Brothers so come a few minutes early and enjoy
- J. B. Covert polo shirts are available and are worn by several members to meetings.

Message from the East

Greetings Brethren,

I am happy to announce that on July 10th we initiated another new brother. The night also served as an initiation of a different kind. Per the request of our Senior Warden, Bro. Jack Lennon, this degree also served as the first “step up” night for the officers. Overall, I am very pleased with their efforts. I firmly believe that, with their continued efforts and dedication, they will be more than ready to lead our Lodge into the future. I greatly look forward to that future.

We were also very fortunate to have three of the officers from Alembic Lodge #793 visiting that night. For those who are unaware, Alembic Lodge is one of the newest Lodge's in Ohio, having been officially chartered at the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Ohio in 2014. I was fortunate enough to be present for that historic moment.

After the degree, I had a conversation with the Master of Alembic, Worshipful Brother Ben Rosenfield. He brought up the subject of Lodge culture. I think that it is safe to say that any of us who have traveled have experienced it. We know that every Lodge has its own particular “feel” and personality, which is a reflection of the men who comprise the Lodge. Ben noticed that our Lodge is made up of brothers from many different generations. He further observed that we all seemed to get along very well and that it didn't look like there were divisions along generational lines. I was able to respond, with a great sense of pride, that our Lodge culture is devoid of any power struggles, political machinations, or classism.

It isn't that all of us agree all of the time. We wouldn't be freethinking men if that were the case. It's that we will put our differences aside to work towards the common good. We remember that we are all Masons, that we are brothers, and that we have a duty to each other and the community.

As we move forward, let us always remember that this trait is part of who we are and our culture. It is a truly Masonic legacy that we must preserve.

May God bless all of you!

Fraternally,

Daniel O. Campbell
